

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF OHIO, EASTERN DIVISION

MENG HUANG,

Plaintiff,

v.

THE OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY and
GIORGIO RIZZONI,

Defendants.

Case No: 2:19-cv-1976

Chief Judge Sarah D. Morrison

Magistrate Judge: Chelsey M. Vascura

DEFENDANTS' MOTION IN LIMINE NO. 4: REGARDING WITNESS FOR TITLE VII PORTION OF TRIAL

Now come Defendants Giorgio Rizzoni ("Dr. Rizzoni") and The Ohio State University ("OSU") and respectfully request this Honorable Court to issue an order granting them leave to call a witness at trial necessitated by the remand order issued by the court of appeals.

I. INTRODUCTION

This is a sexual harassment/retaliation lawsuit in which Plaintiff alleges she was subjected to mistreatment by Dr. Rizzoni, a tenured professor of mechanical and aerospace engineering at The Ohio State University's ("OSU") College of Engineering. This case was filed by Plaintiff on August 31, 2018. A first jury trial was held on May 1, 2023, resulting in a verdict for the defense. Plaintiff appealed and this case was remanded for retrial to this court. Trial is currently set to begin on September 8, 2025.

One issue on remand of this matter the reversal of summary judgment in favor of OSU and, specifically, whether Plaintiff should be considered an employee or a student for purposes of her previously-dismissed Title VII discrimination and retaliation claims. The Sixth Circuit mandated in its remand opinion that the retrial of this case must include a determination regarding whether Plaintiff should be considered an employee under Title VII. As stated by the appellate court, “At trial, the jury should make factual findings regarding Rizzoni’s disputed control over where and when Huang worked. Once any genuine dispute is settled by the jury, the district court should decide as a matter of law whether Huang was an OSU employee. . . .” (ECF #64-2, PAGEID #21).

II. Witnesses for Trial on Title VII Issue.

Obviously, at the time of the original trial OSU was not even a defendant because summary judgment had been granted and it was dismissed as a party. As such, OSU did not identify any witnesses to call at the time of trial. Because the Title VII issue mandated by the appellate court will require witness testimony on the issues addressed in the appellate opinion, OSU will need to call previously-unidentified witnesses at the time of trial. In addition to witnesses already identified, OSU seeks to call Dr. La’Tonia Stiner-Jones, Associate Dean of Graduate Programs. Dr. Stiner-Jones has knowledge regarding the “factors” the Sixth Circuit has mandated that the jury/court consider for purposes of determining if Plaintiff is considered an employee under Title VII. See, ECF #64-2, PAGEID #18. Because there was no need for Dr. Stiner-Jones’ testimony during the first trial (as a result of the grant of summary judgment to OSU), she was not identified or called as a witness.

For the reasons set forth above, Defendants respectfully request the Court to grant leave for OSU to call Dr. Stiner-Jones as a witness during the Title VII portion of trial, only.
